

A simple game

Let's say you've created a game, to be played in a web browser.

It doesn't really matter here what the game does. Maybe it's "guess what number I'm thinking of" or something. Anything.

The point is, you've made a page.

A simple game

Here are the files which make up your game-page:

index.html

styles.css

cat.jpg

gameplay.js
